The Price & Lee Company is pleased to publish the 1972 edition of the Cambridge City Directory. The City Directory contains household and business information within five major sections.

I. The Buyers Section, printed on ivory paper, displays under appropriate headings, those advertisers within the community who ardently support the directory service and desire to make a presentation of their products and services.

II. The Classified Section, printed on yellow paper, lists alphabetically under appropriate headings those businesses contained throughout the City Directory, serving as a comprehensive guide of the business sector in the community.

III. The Alphabetical Section, printed on white paper, is a complete alphabetical listing of all available households and businesses; and defines that information according to home and business addresses, occupations, marital status, etc.

IV. The Street Section, printed on green paper, contains in alphabetical sequence all streets; and list under each street description in numerical or house sequence the dwellings on that street, the occupant, telephone number if possible, and an indication of whether the home is privately owned. Business information is characterized by job description where pertinent.

V. The Telephone Section, printed on blue paper, is a complete list of all phones numerically listed under appropriate exchanges giving telephone number and owner.

The five sections of the City Directory, along with the introduction (including governmental information) gives a complete survey of the population of the Cambridge community.

There are facilities and programs to satisfy all ages, from tot-lots supervised by the municipal recreation department, to concerts by the world famous Boston Symphony Orchestra and the Cambridge Civic Symphony.

GENERAL INFORMATION
The Massachusetts Bay Transit Authority provides intracity bus lines and a rapid transit system subway connects Cambridge with Boston in 8 minutes from Harvard Square.
Cambridge maintains its own water supply system with three reservoirs with a storage capacity of four and one-half billion gallons. The water is soft and non-corrosive. Water rates are the lowest in the state.
Since Cambridge is in the Heart of the Metropolitan Boston area, which includes 17 cities and 48 towns in a 20-mile radius of Boston, it can and does draw on the 2,500,000 population within the area for skilled labor. Rapid transit facilities provide excellent transportation into Cambridge.

HOW MANY CHANGES IN A YEAR?

Out of every 100 People as listed in the last Directory

16% to 18% Move away or die

17% to 19% "New" people move into town or reach listing age.

26% to 29% More change their addresses or their jobs or some other vital fact that affects their listing.

Making a total of 59% to 66% of the People listed who have new information in some particular which can be surely found only in the NEW DIRECTORY

Note: These figures are from repeated checks in numerous cities and do not vary 5% in any one year.

THAT IS WHY NEW DIRECTORIES MUST BE PUBLISHED EVERY YEAR.

THIS IS CAMBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS

"Learning, Science, History flow together along the Charles River".

CAMBRIDGE IS A CITY WHERE THINGS HAPPEN FIRST

- The first college in the United States—Harvard—was founded in 1636 in Cambridge.

- The first printing press in North America was set up in Cambridge in 1638. Stephen Daye printed the first book in America in 1640.
- The first vaccination against smallpox was administered in Cambridge in 1800 by Dr. Benjamin Waterhouse who was the first Surgeon General of the United States Army.
- The first great American telescope was manufactured in Cambridge in 1850.
- The first sewing machine was perfected in 1845 by Elias Howe while working in the home of a Cambridge machinist.
- The first pressed glass was molded in Cambridge in 1827. Enoch Robinson revolutionized the glass making industry when he injected molten glass into a mold to create the first piece of pressed glass —a water tumbler.
- The first experimental wind tunnel was built at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge in 1913. Research at the Wright Wind Tunnel contributed greatly to the advancement of the aircraft industry.
- The first concepts of inertial guidance for missiles were formulated by researchers and engineers at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The Polaris Missile Guidance system resulted.
- Many firsts in the future will result from the continuing research and development program now in progress in Cambridge. Massachusetts Institute of Technology, entering its second century, has 900 non-classified research projects now in progress.

PAST AND FUTURE EXIST TOGETHER IN CAMBRIDGE

LONGFELLOW HOUSE
105 Brattle Street, 1759.
Washington's headquarters during the Siege of Boston, 1775-76. Open to the public.

CARPENTER CENTER FOR THE VISUAL ARTS, HARVARD UNIVERSITY
Opened in 1963.
Designed by Le Corbusier.

The historic past and the future exist side by side in Cambridge. Famous historical sites contrast with modern buildings in which enterprises of the future are planned for the betterment of mankind and the Nation.

INTERPRETING AND PRESERVING THE CITY'S PAST

Cambridge has a Historical Commission to administer historic districts and to survey, evaluate, and interpret the city's architectural heritage.

Four historic districts have thus far been established in Cambridge. Within these districts, the Commission must pass on all exterior changes, so that the character of the environment may be preserved along with the individual landmarks. The four districts are the Cambridge Common Historic District, which comprises the Common and its periphery; the Longfellow Historic District, which includes the Longfellow House and nearby property extending to the Charles River; the Fayerweather-Lee Historic District which comprises part of the north side of Brattle Street; and the Lowell Historic District, which centers on the mansion "Elmwood."

As a guide to historic sites around Harvard Square, the Commission has prepared a Heritage Trail brochure, available free from the City Manager's office. This brochure outlines a walking tour of major landmarks, explaining their interest and importance.

The Cambridge Historical Commission's principal activity since 1964 has been its Survey of Architectural History in Cambridge. The survey involves a building-by-building inventory and extensive research into development patterns and building histories. Work is progressing through the entire city, from east to west. Already published are reports on East Cambridge and Mid Cambridge. Reports on Cambridgeport and Old Cambridge are in preparation.

Each of the Commission's survey reports contains over a hundred pages of amply illustrated text discussing historical background, architectural development, and environmental character, with recommendations for preservation and future use. The reports are available at $4.95 each from local bookstores or from the distributor, The M.I.T. Press.

The offices of the Cambridge Historical Commission are in the City Hall Annex, 57 Inman Street, where its files of photographs and archival material are available for study.

VICTORIAN HOUSES IN CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge is a desirable place to live. It is a city with universities and scientific research, a city with interesting shops and entertainment, a city with a variety of pleasant residential streets. Some streets are lined with houses that are similar in size and age; other streets display a mixture of sizes and styles; still others have high-rise apartment buildings interspersed with older dwellings. People living in Cambridge today enjoy modern city life in a historical setting. The combination of city and suburb provides an environment of varied activity and visual interest. One of the city's resources of particular visual and historical value is its Victorian houses. Their quantity and quality prove that Cambridge was as desirable a place to live in the nineteenth century as it is today. This capsule view of the city's Victorian houses, selected from the files of the Cambridge Historical Commission, shows the range of residential architecture that was "modern" in the nineteenth century and that still enriches Cambridge life.

MODERN ARCHITECTURE IN CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE BUILDINGS BY CAMBRIDGE ARCHITECTS

In recent years Cambridge has been fortunate in the abundance of new structures of high architectural quality which will contribute to the aesthetic appearance of the City for future generations. While an exhaustive list of outstanding new buildings would more than fill these pages, special recognition is limited here to those designed by architects living, working or teaching in Cambridge. Even on this restricted basis, however, it has not been possible to include all such structures worthy of mention.

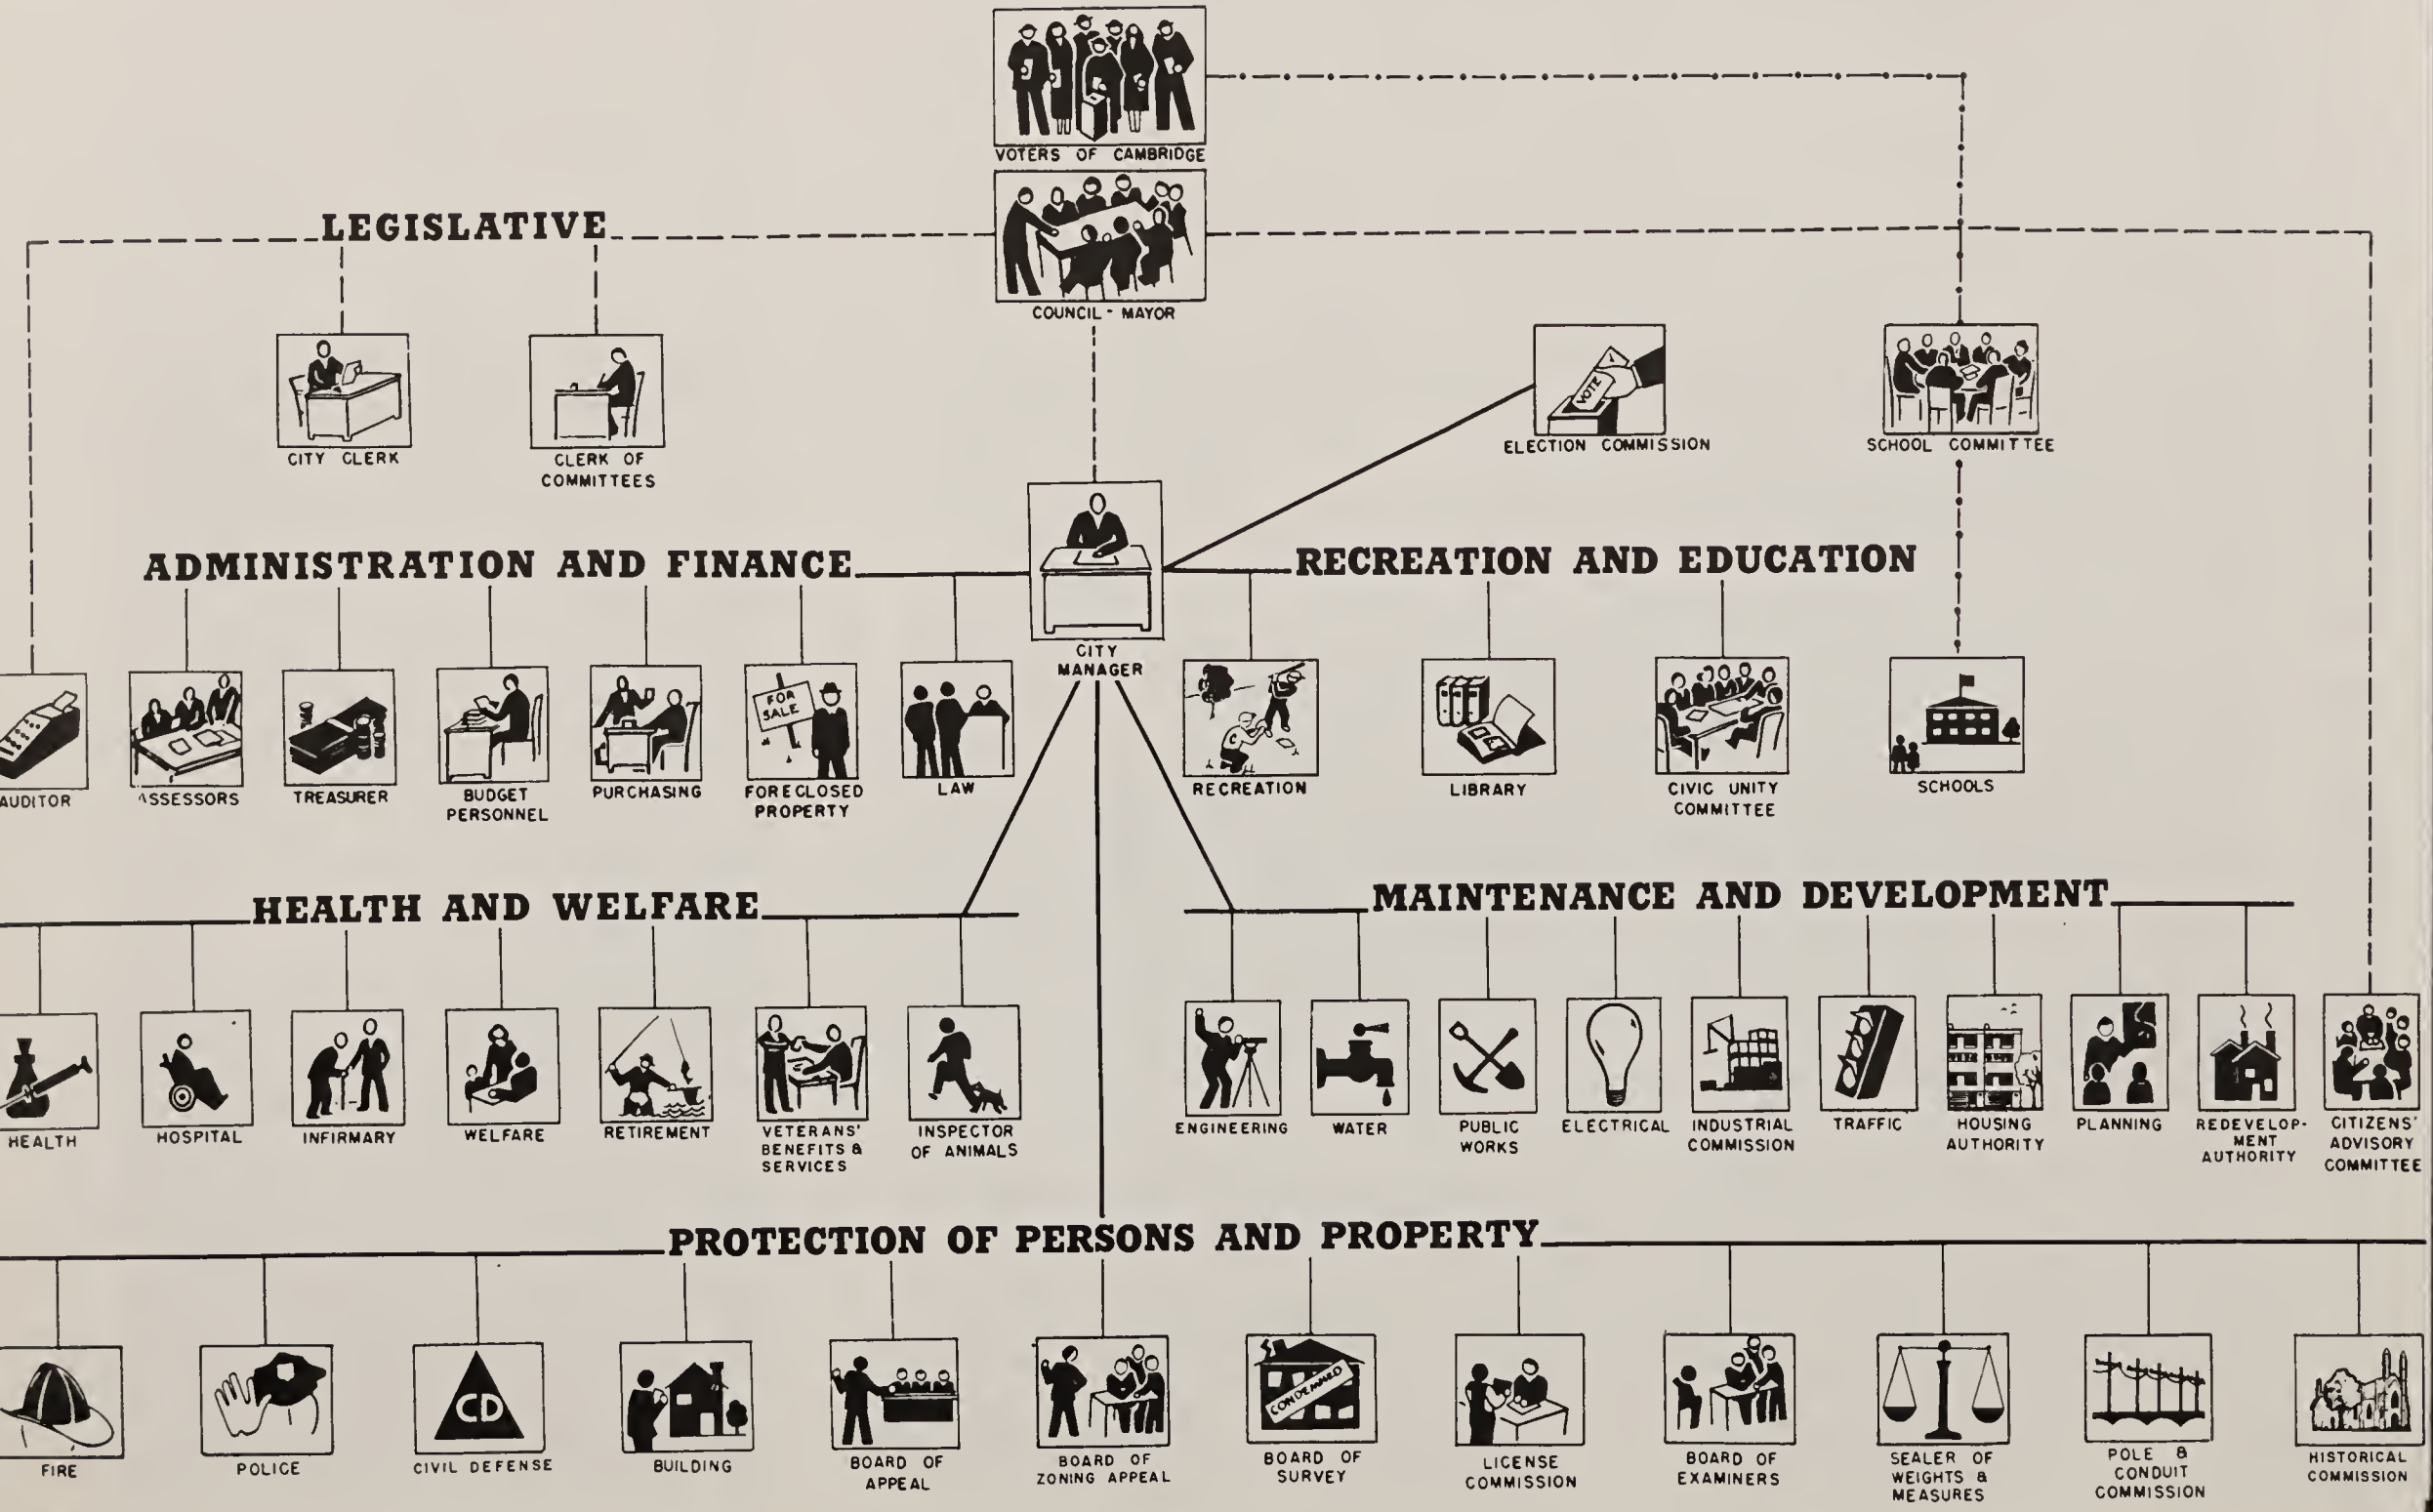
EDUCATION IN CAMBRIDGE

MORSE SCHOOL

Cambridge, Massachusetts, — "The University City" offers a wide choice of elementary and secondary school facilities.

In the Public School system there are fifteen elementary schools, one vocational school, and two high schools. Shown above is one of the modern school buildings of the public school system.



The Public School system provides many services to individual pupils without charge. These services include psychological testing, psychiatric evaluation, instruction for the gifted student, the retarded, the physically handicapped in school and at home, for those with speech, hearing, reading and visual defects.

There are eleven elementary and six secondary schools in the parochial school system. Private schools on the elementary and secondary levels are available as are several college preparatory schools.

In the adult education area there are University Extension courses available at Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Education is one of Cambridge's "most outstanding products". Its educational opportunities attract scholars from all over the world.

Organized under the provisions of Chapter 121B of the Massachusetts General Laws, the Cambridge Housing Authority has been in continuous operation since 1935, making it one of the oldest Authorities in the Commonwealth. It plans, constructs and manages low-rent housing developments. It also leases apartments from private landlords and provides tenants for these units with a rent subsidy for the tenant. Listed below is a directory of the locus of the Major activities of the Authority.

DOT® DOES MORE THAN

"HOLD THINGS TOGETHER"

The billions of special-purpose fasteners made by DOT do hold things together, of course; that is their basic function. But they do more than that. They help speed assembly, cut costs and improve product performance in many different industries . . . electronics, automobiles, aircraft and missiles, furniture, clothing, leather goods, to name only a few.

For the electronics industry particularly, United-Carr not only makes fastening and connecting devices in volume quantities but also a tremendous variety of switches, sockets, shock mounts, indicator lights and other special assemblies.

Widely experienced design engineering staffs are backed by complete facilities for large-scale production of intricate metal stampings, plastic components and composite assemblies of metal and plastics.

Names Appearing In Black Letters

IN THIS DIRECTORY are the names of those people who ACCOMPLISH THINGS and are entitled to favorable consideration, if for no other reason than their public-spirited support of measures which make for progress. They represent that ENERGY AND PUSH so essential to the commercial prosperity of the City, and in dealing with them no mistake will be made. The publishers are honored in thus making them better known to the public.

Common Sense

About City Directory Circulation

THE true value of advertising circulation is circulation consulted.

TO be exact by actual survey in twenty-four average American cities by actual count each city directory averaged three and one-half consultations for each business day.

TO be conservative we will eliminate the sixty Sundays and Holidays when no tests were made.

FOR every thousand directories sold there will be an average of three and one-half daily consultations for each book for three hundred and five days, therefore—

1000 x 3½ x 305=
1,067,500

Consultations or

Circulation Consulted

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

ITS PRACTICAL USE IS TO GIVE

Information— as to any firm or individual in business, classified according to their business or profession.

Information— as to Associations, Clubs and Societies, when and where they meet and the name and address of their secretary.

Information— as to Churches, their location and pastor together with the pastor's address.

Information— as to where to obtain a list of prospects for your products or service.

Information— as to where to obtain any service that your community has to give.

Information— as to where to buy advantageously when competitive bids are required for any given service or product.

—Finally —

If your neighbor has it to sell, give him your business.

Like consideration from your neighbor adds prosperity to both.
